

The Various Dimensions of Hajj

There are four dimensions associated with this great act of worship all of which are of great importance and benefit.

The Ethical Dimension

The most important philosophy of Hajj is the ethical transformation, which it induces within man. The ritual of ihram entirely removes man from material ostentations, external distinctions, extravagant clothing, and ornaments. By prohibiting pleasures and engaging him in self-rectification - one of the duties of a muhrim (one who is in the state of ihram) - it distances him from the material world and engrosses him in a world of light, purity, and spirituality. Consequently, it causes those who, in ordinary circumstances, find themselves weighed down by the burden of make-believe distinctions, ranks, and honors, to suddenly feel light, easy, and relaxed.

Subsequently, the performance of the other rituals of Hajj, one after the other, continually brings man closer to his Lord, strengthens his spiritual connection with Him, distances him from his gloomy and sinful past, and guides him towards a bright, luminous, and pure future.

Every step of the Hajj rituals is reminiscent of the events associated with Ibrahim (AS), Isma'il (AS), and his mother Hajar, and personifies before man their self-sacrifice, altruism, and struggle (in the path of Allah). The city of Makkah in general, and the Masjid al-Haram, the Ka'ba, and the place of circumambulation, in particular, bring to mind the memories of the Noble Prophet (PBUH), the holy Imams (AS), and the struggle of the Muslims during the period of early Islam. As a result, this ethical transformation tends to be deeper and more profound such that in every corner of Masjid al-Haram and the city of Makkah, man visualizes the faces of the Noble Prophet (PBUH), Ali (AS), and the other holy Imams, and hears the enthusiastic slogans of their mission.

Indeed, all these together pave the way for an ethical revolution within hearts that are receptive and in a manner that is indescribable, and causes man to turn over a new leaf and opens up a new chapter in his life. It is not without reason that we read in our traditions that one, who performs Hajj, completely and perfectly becomes free of sins just as he was on the day when his mother gave him birth.” (يَخْرُجُ مِنْ ذُنُوبِهِ كَهَيْئَتِهِ يَوْمَ) (وَلَدَتْهُ أُمُّهُ) - Bihar al-Anwar, Vol. 99, P. 26

Truly, Hajj is a second birth for Muslims - a birth, which is the beginning of a new human life.

It is needless to mention that these effects and benefits, and those that we shall mention later, are neither for those who only content themselves with its exterior leaving aside its core nor for those, who only view it as a means for recreation, tourism, pretension, dissemblance and acquiring personal material items – never acquainting themselves with its spirit and essence. Their share would only be that which they had set out to achieve!

The Political Dimension

As has been stated by one of the renowned Islamic jurists, the Hajj rituals, apart from putting on display the most sincere and profound acts of worship, are also the most effective means for advancing the political objectives of Islam.

The essence of worship is attention towards Allah, while the essence of politics is attention towards the creation of Allah - and these two aspects are observed to be as closely intertwined in Hajj as the yarns in a fabric!

Hajj is an effective factor in establishing unity among the ranks of Muslims.

Hajj is an instrument to combat nationalistic and racial fanaticism and oppose confinement (of the Muslims) within their geographical boundaries.

Hajj is a means for eliminating the shackles of censorship and breaking the stranglehold of the oppressive leaderships prevalent in Islamic nations.

Hajj is a tool for transferring news of political affairs of the Islamic nations from one corner of the globe to another, and finally, it is an effective means for breaking the fetters of captivity and colonialism and liberating the Muslims.

Consequently, during the period when oppressive tyrants like those belonging to the Umayyad and the Abbasid dynasties ruled over the Islamic regions and kept every kind of interaction between the various segments of the Muslims under close scrutiny in order to crush any kind of liberty-seeking uprising, the advent of the season of Hajj was an opening towards freedom, interaction between various segments of the great Islamic society and discussion of various political issues.

One can see why the Commander of the Faithful (AS), expounding the philosophy that lay behind every act of worship in connection with Hajj, states: "Allah has ordained (the rituals of) Hajj for the purpose of strengthening the religion." (الْحَجَّ تَقْوِيَةً لِلدِّينِ) - Nahj al-Balaghah, Saying 252

Again, it is not without reason that an eminent non-Muslim statesman has stated: Woe unto the Muslims if they do not perceive the meaning (and significance) of Hajj and woe unto their enemies if they (the Muslims) ever happen to perceive it.

Even in Islamic traditions, Hajj has been regarded as the Jihad of the feeble ones. It is a Jihad in which even the old and weak men and women can join and make a contribution to exhibiting the greatness and grandeur of the Islamic Ummah. By standing in circles around the holy Ka'ba and attesting to Allah's unity and greatness, they cause the hearts of the enemies of Islam to palpitate in trepidation.

The Cultural Dimension

The interaction between the various segments of Islamic society during the season of Hajj can turn out to be the most effective factor for cultural exchanges and the transfer of thoughts and ideas. This is especially so because the grand gathering of Hajj is in reality, a true and natural representation of all the segments of the Muslims of the world (as there is no forced, forged, or artificial factor involved in the selection of those proceeding for Hajj. The pilgrims are individuals who come from all segments, races, and languages associated with the Muslims all over the world, who have gathered under one roof). Thus we read in the traditions: One of the benefits of Hajj is the spread of the traditions of the Noble Prophet (PBUH) throughout the entire Islamic world.

Hisham ibn Hakam, one of the learned companions of Imam Ja'far Sadiq (AS) says: I questioned the Imam (AS) about the philosophy that lay behind the performance of Hajj and the circumambulation of the Ka'ba whereupon he replied: "Allah created the servants ... and for the welfare of their worldly and religious affairs, He sent down His commandments for them – one of them being the congregation of the people from the East and the West (for the Hajj rituals). This is, in order to make Muslims get acquainted with one another, become aware of the states of each other, and (so that) every group transfers its business investments from one city to another ... and so that the memories and traditions of the Noble Prophet (PBUH) become known, and the people bring them to mind and do not forget them." - Wasa'il al-Shia, Vol. 8, P. 9.

It was on this basis that the Muslims, during the suffocating eras in which the tyrannical caliphs and rulers had prohibited them from spreading these rulings, made use of this opportunity (of Hajj) to interact with the Imams G and eminent religious scholars for solving their problems, understanding the rulings of Islam and comprehending the traditions and customs of the Noble Prophet (PBUH).

On the other hand, Hajj possesses the ability to be transformed into a gigantic cultural assembly in which scholars and intellectuals of the Islamic world, come together for a few days in Makkah, propounding their thoughts and exhibiting their creativity before others.

Essentially, one of the great catastrophes is that the boundaries between the Islamic nations become the cause for them to separate from each other, culturally. As a consequence, Muslims of each nation only reflect upon their own selves and their own state of affairs, and this is something that effectively works towards dismembering and dissecting the single Islamic society; indeed, Hajj has the ability to stem this evil outcome.

How beautifully has Imam Ja'far Sadiq (AS) stated in that tradition of Hisham ibn Hakam when he said: "If all the people were to be concerned only about their respective countries and the problems existing therein, all of them would suffer destruction, their countries would face ruination, their benefits and welfare would be lost, and realities would become obscured and concealed."

The Financial Dimension

Contrary to what some people imagine, utilizing the great assembly of Hajj for strengthening the financial foundations of the Islamic nations is not inconsistent with the spirit of Hajj. Instead, according to Islamic traditions, it constitutes one of the philosophies for it.

What harm is there if the Muslims in that great gathering, were to lay the foundations of a common and associated Islamic market, and pave the way for commercial transactions amongst themselves in a manner in which neither do their profits enter the pockets of their enemies nor does their economy become dependent upon the others? An act of this type would not be called craving for the world but rather, it would constitute an act of worship and Jihad (in the way of Allah).

In that tradition of Hisham quotes an express reference by Imam Sadiq (AS) made towards this aspect that one of the objectives of Hajj is strengthening the commercial status of the Muslims and facilitating economic association and cooperation among them.

Interpreting the verse "There is no blame on you in seeking bounty from your Lord (لَيْسَ عَلَيْكُمْ) - (جُنَاحٌ أَنْ تَبْتَغُوا فَضْلًا مِنْ رَبِّكُمْ) - Surah Al-Baqarah, Verse 198 - the Imam (AS) said: The meaning of this verse is seeking livelihood. And when a person comes out of his ihram and completes the Hajj, he should conduct business transactions during the season of Hajj (for instead of being a sin it carries rewards.)"

This meaning is also witnessed in a tradition from Imam Ali ibn Musa al-Reza (AS), which explicitly enumerates the philosophies and objectives underlying the rites of Hajj; in the tradition, the Imam (AS) recites the following verse of the Noble Qur'an: "That they may witness advantages for them" (لِيَشْهَدُوا) (مَتَافِعَ لَهُمْ) - Surah Al-Hajj, Verse 28 - a reference to the fact that the verse alludes to the spiritual benefits as well as the material ones - although both of them, from one perspective, can be looked upon as being spiritual in essence.

In short, if this great worship were to be utilized correctly and perfectly, and the pilgrims of the House of Allah, at a time when they are active and their hearts are emotionally ready in that holy land, were to make use of this great opportunity for solving the various problems that plague the Islamic society by establishing various political, cultural and mercantile assemblies, it would surely serve to untie. Perhaps this is why Imam Sadiq (AS) has said: "The religion shall continue to stand as long as the Ka'ba continues to do so." (لَا يَزَالُ) (الدِّينُ قَائِمًا مَا قَامَتِ الْكَعْبَةُ) - Wasa'il al-Shia, Vol. 8, P. 14.

Imam Ali (AS) too has said: "Fear Allah in the matter of His House (Ka'ba)! Do not desert it for if it is deserted, divine reprimand shall be taken away from you." (اللَّهُ اللَّهُ فِي بَيْتِ رَبِّكُمْ فَلَا يَخْلُو) (مِنْكُمْ مَا يَقْبَلُكُمْ فَإِنَّهُ إِنْ تَرَكْتُمْ لَمْ تَنَاطَرُوا) - Nahj al-Balaghah, Letter 47.

Because of the immense significance of the above issue, in the Islamic sources of traditions a separate chapter has been devoted to the ruling that if it were to ever happen that in a particular year, the Muslims decide to refrain from going for Hajj, it would become obligatory upon the Islamic government to send them to Makkah by means of force!

Hajj, An Important Act of Worship for Human Development

The journey for Hajj is a divine one and, in reality, a great migration; an expansive field for self-development, self-rectification, and the Greater Jihad (Jihad al-Akbar).

The Hajj rituals collectively are an act of worship profoundly associated with the struggle of Ibrahim (AS) his son Isma'il (AS) and his wife Hajar and if we were to remain heedless of this aspect while studying the secrets and objectives of Hajj, many of its rites and rituals would only float before us as enigmas; the solution to this lies in keeping this deep association within our sights during the course of the study.

When we come to the sacrificial grounds in Mina, the innumerable sacrifices performed there leave us amazed and perplexed; basically, is it possible for animal sacrifice to be a part of the rituals associated with an act of worship?

But when we bring to mind the incident of Ibrahim (AS) when he sincerely endeavored to sacrifice his nearest and dearest one in the path of Allah after which the sacrifice at Mina came into existence in the form of a custom, we comprehend the philosophy lying behind it.

Offering sacrifice, in reality, implies one's total disregard for everything else when striving in the way of Allah and is a demonstration of cleansing one's heart from everything other than Allah. The reformative and educative effects of these rites can be derived in sufficient measure only when the entire scenario of the sacrifice of Isma'il (AS) and the spiritual state of the father and the son leading up to the sacrifice is incarnated before man's eyes and this spiritual state casts its influence upon him.

When we proceed towards Jamarat (three stone pillars, which the pilgrims strike with pebbles – each one to be struck with seven pebbles – in a special ritual of Hajj), the rituals there appear enigmatic and inexplicable to us and we are given to wonder as to what could be the idea behind stoning a lifeless stone pillar and what problem could such an act possibly solve?

However, when we bring to mind the struggle of Ibrahim (AS) – the champion of monotheism – against the whisperings of Satan, who appeared before him on three occasions – each time seeking to weaken his resolve and distract him from the Jihad al-Akbar (The Greater Jihad) – and on each occasion Ibrahim (AS) repelled him by means of stones, these rites appear more meaningful and comprehensible to us.

These rituals convey the meaning that: Throughout your lives, all of you too, are in confrontation with the whisperings of Satan during the Jihad-e-Akbar (Greatest Battle), and until you do not stone them and drive them away, you shall never be victorious. If you desire that Allah, just as He had sent His salutations upon Ibrahim (AS) and made his name and doctrine eternal, should also cast His look of grace and favor upon you, then you must follow his (AS) path too.

When we arrive at Safa and Marwah where we observe the people repeatedly moving to and fro between one small mountain and another even smaller one without getting anything – at times walking and at times running – we are surely overtaken by astonishment as to what kind of ritual this is and what could it possibly mean and signify.

But then, when we bring to mind the efforts of Hajar for saving the life of her suckling child in that hot and scorching desert, and how Allah, after her sincere efforts, granted her wish by making the water of Zamzam flow from beneath the foot of her new-born child, the clock suddenly turns back for us, the curtains tend to get lifted and we find ourselves near Hajar, accompanying her in her quest and efforts. In the path of Allah, one cannot hope to attain any rank and status without exertion and effort!

From what we have presented above, it can be easily concluded that Hajj should be taught in this manner; the memories of Ibrahim (AS) his son and his wife should be personified step by step so that not only is the philosophy of Hajj perceived and comprehended but also its profound ethical effects illuminate and influence the souls of the pilgrims – for without these effects the entire Hajj is nothing but a mere façade.
